Global Marathon - Use Cases

Name:
user desires an easy-to-understand summary of their activity progress

Description:
progress is marked against the average steps of an American and against the user's age group. A bar graph will provide visual summary.

Actors: end-user

Pre-conditions:

* User must have an account created at https://www.fitbit.com/
* User's device must be connected to the Internet at login period

Standard Path:

1. User opens Global Marathon app to see login interface
2. User clicks/taps on "Login with Fitbit" to see prompt for Fitbit username and password
3. User enters username and password to prompt personal Fitbit API data download onto Global Marathon
4. App displays a template which summarizes the user's activity condition against the average of rest of the United States
5. User swipes the screen left
6. App displays a template which summarizes the user's activity condition against the average of those in the same age group as the user
7. User swipes the screen left
8. App displays a template which provides recommendations for more fitness
9. User swipes the screen left
10. App displays a personalized graph that summarizes the user's activity against the United States and the age group
11. User swipes the screen left
12. User clicks/taps the "Logout" button to log out
13. App returns to the "Login with Fitbit" screen

Post-condition:
User is ready to login again with updated Fitbit data